Mr. William E. Osgood Field,
Highlawn House,
Lenox, Mass.

My dear Mr. Field:-

As I expected on last Thursday afternoon, no quorum of the Council of The American Numismatic Society did not appear, nor did a majority of the Publication Committee. However, Mr. Newell, Mr. Palden and myself were present as members of the Council, and also Mr. Wood, the Curator of the Society.

As regards the size of the annual number of the Journal, which we hope to have ready for delivery about the first of the year, after very careful consideration it was decided that it would be best to continue the book in its present size. We brought out for inspection and comparison the publications of all the leading numismatic societies abroad, and found that there was no standard size. The Moscow and Vienna publications are even larger paper than ours. The British is just a trifle smaller; the French and Belgians smaller still; and the Royal too small to really produce a satisfactory plate. The fact that the best modern numismatic books are now being printed on large paper in order to get the best results as to illustrations, and that there is no standard size for publications of this character, would lead us to continue our publication as it has been in the past. Unquestionably, as our publication was a quarterly pamphlet was decidedly awkward in size, but now that it is to be produced as an annual of, we hope, a considerable size, it will be treated more as a book. After a comparison with the foreign publications, it was the unanimous opinion of those of us who were present that our book was well balanced as to size, and not at all out of proportion. I am sending you herewith three samples of paper, A, B and C, which seem to be the most desireable from a larger selection sent us by Mr. Marvin, of Boston, who will produce the book, provided there is no objection. Personally, I am in favor of using the paper, the sample of which is marked "A," as being a happy medium between the other two samples marked "B" and "C." The paper formerly used in the Journal has been unsatisfactory as it has been of a rough surface character, and does not take a good impression. As we desire to illustrate some of the articles in the text, a smooth surface paper will be necessary, and it is Mr. Wood's opinion that a coated or canted paper would not answer our purposes as well as any of the three samples submitted, which are of the calendered, or non-coated, type.

As regards the type on the accompanying samples of paper, I consider that the new twelve point modern, as shown on the outside front page, is a great improvement on anything we have had as yet. To my mind it shows up well and makes a page of more dignity and character than anything we have produced as yet in this particular line. On the first inner page you will find the twelve point old style, which was formally used, and on the second inner page the eleven point modern, which we would use in connection with the twelve point modern. The last page is the eleven point old style, which was used formally.

Any suggestion or criticism, which you may have to make, will be very welcome. While I may be absent from the city, Mr. Wood will be at the Society building almost continuously, and I will ask you to return the enclosed samples to him with any remarks or criticism, which you may have to make, or if you prefer to communicate with me personally my address for the next month will be 5 Castle Hill Avenue, Great Barrington, Mass. In any event, I will ask you to return the samples to Mr. Wood at your earliest convenience.

If possible, we will endeavor to have the printer furnish the special type necessary to properly print Mr. Frey's article. If we are unsuccessful in this, we will have it made ourselves, and the type will then be our own property.

It is our intention to improve the title page of the book producing a better balance and general appearance. This, I think, may be accomplished by a careful selection of type, and the lowering of the seal on the page to conform to the general character of the title pages of all the foreign publications of like character. It is also the intention of the Chairman of the Committee, with the approval of the other members, to bind the annual volume in a heavy, durable paper cover, the same, or similar, in character to the cover used on the catalogue of our Medallic Exhibition, and to have something less archaic and a trifle more attractive on the outside dress of the book. Two, at least, of the articles will be illustrated by plates. The one by Miss Agnes Baldwin on the Electrum Coinage of Lampsacus will be illustrated by plates, which she is preparing abroad, and the Roty article by Dr. Kunz, and an article furnished by Seltman will be illustrated by plates, which we will have prepared here. Mr. Frey would prefer to have the illustrations for his article appear in the text, which, I think, can be satisfactorily done on the type of paper we have been thinking of selecting. So much for the annual publication.

Regarding the other matters, which we discussed on the train, I can only say that I have discussed them with Mr. Belden, and trust they will receive his attention.

Owing to various unavoidable mishaps, the Morgan medal is still in the throes of production, and we trust in good time it may reach the public.

Mr. Belden has disappeared from the scene on a short vacation, and will doubt less give these matters his earnest attention on his return.

Very truly yours,

Chairman of Publication Committee.

Mr. W. B. Osgood Field,

Dear Mr. Field:-

Your letter just at hand. The ideal requisites of a Librarian for this Society are, to my mind, as follows:

A general knowledge of numismatics so that the subject is not a stranger to him.

A working knowledge of library work. This however does not need to be extensive.

A ground work of order and method.

A knowledge of French and German at least and a fair knowledge of Latin.

The ability to write good English with a certain amount of style.

Any person that we should have for the library should be an important part of the working staff of the organization, capable of writing, editing and criticising numismatic subjects, because if we are to be considered a scientific Society in our own field of endeavor, our staff of experts should be larger than they now are.

Of course it would be extremely hard to find any one that would fulfil all of these requirements; nevertheless the point should be borne in mind in making a selection.

The question of pay would be a factor. I very much doubt if any one fulfilling all or a large part of these requisites could be obtained for the price we have paid, for I understand an assistant librarian starts in for about the price paid with the prospects of several raises as he becomes more familiar with his duties. With our position the chances of a raise are very small and but few people would take the job with any idea of permanency. Any person that we could get for the price we had been paying or less, would be to my mind, a makeshift or a very lucky strike.

Although I have been on the look out for some one for the position, I have thought of no one. The work can go along satisfactorily for a while without any regular librarian as Mr. Savage as left in a comprehensible form, what has been done, and what there is to do. During the last month he has broken in Miss Holding to the routine work of the department and the work can go automatically on for some time.

As for Mr. de Lagerberg's qualifications I would suggest that we first look around as I think that we could do better, as I don't think that Mr de Lagerberg would fulfil enough of the requirements that we should require.

Very sincerely yours,

HIGH LAWN HOUSE

Dear Mr. Wood:

Keep your eyes open for a possible Librarian and let me know if you can suggest anyone.

I received your letter and agree with you in every detail.

It seems to me that the Librarian, once the library is in order, should be able to give you a great deal of assistance and act in the capacity of an assistant, so that you would be more free to follow your lines of work.

I think we should install our librarian by the first of October.

Yours very sincerely

Dear Mr. Field:-

Dr. Stevenson of the Hispanic Society has just given me the name of Sydney P. Noe, Sage Library, New Brunswick, N. J. Dr. Stevenson recommends him very highly. He is now engaged as assistant librarian of the above mentioned Library.

He is considered a good worker and a conscientious student. He is somewhat familiar with numismatics, how much I don't know. Some years ago I understand he catalogued and put in shape what coins there were on Rutgers and while doing so made use of our library. Dr. Stevenson says he doesn't know that we can get him. Certainly not at the price we have been paying for a librariah.

So far this is the only person I have heard of. I have not communicated with Mr. Noe.

Very truly yours,

Sept. 20, 1915.

Mr. W. B. Osgood Field
High Lawn House,
Lenox,
Mass.

Dear Mr. Field:-

Dr. Stevenson of the Hispanic Society has just brought in Mr. Sidney P. Noe of whom I wrote you about in my letter of July 26th. We had a long talk with him and the following is the summary together with my opinions.

He is a young man about thirty, unmarried, and from what Dr. Stevenson says about him, and from what I have gleamed from to-day's conversation, he comes much nearer filling all of the requirements for a Librarian that I stated in my letter of July 19th, than I thought possible. He has a fair knowledge of Numismatics and a decided liking for the subject. He has had five years of Library work under a most capable Librarian and scholar, Dr. Van Dyke at the Sage Library, New Brunswick, N. J. His desire for leaving is the fact that he can go no further there and Dr. Van Dyke can teach him no more. In fact Dr. Van Dyke thinks now is the time to try to better himself. He has a working knowledge of French and German. He has done research work and some writing as well as a good deal of proof reading and editing and Dr. Stevenson says he is a hard worker. Noe himself seemed to think he would like the work and seems to have a desire to take up numismatics and expressed a wish that that he could extend his field beyond the routine work of the library and do writing of research work.

The question of pay undoubtedly will be an important factor. He is now living in New Brunswick at the College so that his boarding rooms are at the minimum cost, and I should judge from what he says that his salary, including what he is getting from the College amounts to about 1200, and he would not make a change under that figure. He would like to get 1500. We could get him for something between twelve hundred and fifteen hundred. If at the lower figure I think he would come only on the condition that he would get something better if he made good. In fact his idea is to try to fill in so creditably in research work and editorial work that he could get more money eventually.

Of course I have not committed myself in any way with him, but have tried to get all of the facts possible for you and the council. He strikes me as a good man and if you want me to find out anything more let me know. His name and address is, Sydney P. Noe,
Mrs. A. H. Chester, Union St., New Brunswick, N. J.

Very sincerely yours,

November 15, 1916.

Mr. Wm. B. Osgood Field
High Lawn House,
Lenox, Mass.

Dear Mr. Field:-

Your letter at hand enclosing a dollar and many thanks for the same. I probably will see Schuman today or tomorrow and I will speak to him about the French medals.

Absolutely no German medals can be brought over. I understand, several collectors, in order to be assured that they will certain of the medals that they desire, have ordered them now and Schuman is holding them in Holland until the war is over or the embargo is lifted.

Things are going along all right at the Society. Mr. Jewell has arrived in from the country and is now up here about every day. Mr. Neilly has just gotten back and things will begin to hum with a new lease of life. Affection however will not be reached until the effect caused by your occasional presence here does its work.

Very truly yours,

March 1, 1917.

Mr. William B. Osgood Field
645 Fifth Avenue,
New York,
N. Y.

Dear Mr. Field:-

We learned only the other day when your sister was up here, that you have been sick. I am very sorry to know that you have been under the weather and trust that you will be out and around soon.

Things certainly have been doing up here the past eight or nine months. Neilly is up here every day and giving a large amount of time and thought towards the running and reconstructing of things. Russell is up here nearly every day and he has been as militant and full of ideas and action as possible. When you are about again and need some food for thought, come around and see us.

As you may know, various members, as individuals, bought the Johnson collection and we have been giving Mrs. Johnson small amounts of money every now and then as she has asked for it. Although there is some still left, it will not last forever. Mr. Johnson has been absolutely helpless and virtually out of his head for some months now. He is an absolute dead weight on Mrs. Johnson's hands and she is trying to get him into some hospital or home. As a matter of fact, being an incurable, it has been difficult to place him anywhere. The Society of course can take no action in this matter. The other day she asked me whether it would be all right to write to certain of our members and I told her to go ahead and do so as I could see no harm and one does not get anything nowadays without asking for it. I however, said that I did not really think that she could count on very much help as I don't know that any of our members are in a position to get Mr. Johnson in a home.

I remain,

Yours very sincerely,

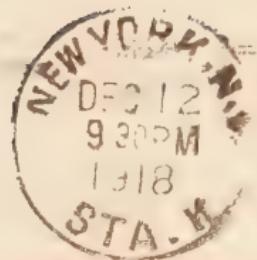

Dear Mr. Wood:-

Will you kindly send me a bill for the 26th - medals new Captain Field. I have only received one of the silver.

Thanking you, Law.

November 23, 1919.

My dear Mr Field,

Your letter came the other day which was a poor substitute for not seeing you, however we are making the most of it.

I will try to get off to you tomorrow by express the German medals There are 29 @ $3.50 / 101.50

1 @	6.00	6.00
1 @	1.75	1.75
		109.25

This lot includes one of each variety that Schulman turned over to me except what the Society took. If you want to keep them all fine work, if you want to return any please do so as soon as possible so I can return them to Schulman before he sails which will be about the middle of December. You can make out the check to me or to J.Schulman.

Yours very truly.

November 25th, 1919.

Dear Mr. Wood:

I am enclosing you cheque for $109.25 in payment for the medals which you have forwarded to me.

I did not know Schulman was in this country. I have been trying ever since the Armistice was signed to have the original medals which he sent me, and which were seized by the British authorities, released, but no success.

I wish I could be of more personal service to the Society than I am, but living as far away as I do for six months of the year makes it almost impossible for me to get about as I should desire. I go to New York very seldom, and ~~only so far as to attend the meetings of the Society~~. However, the first of the year I expect to be in the city and will try to make up for past defects.

My dear Mr. Field:

Your favor with cheque for $109.25 at hand. Many thanks for this.

Although many letters sent in the first two years of the war, which have been held by the British authorities, have finally reached their destinations, as yet I have not heard of any packages coming over. Without knowing for a fact, I am inclined to think that some of the English public collections have been enriched by things seized during the war. If by any chance you do get your medals, let me know, as we have two invoices that suffered the same treatment as yours did.

Trusting to see you after the first of the year, I remain,

Very truly,

Curator.

Dear Mr. Field:

Platation is the sinarest form of flattery although, unlike the composer, we do not follow the copy out of the window. Mr. Ros is in the Italian Consulate service in Shantung and is a good student of modern Chinese numismatics. He has been very friendly with us for a number of years and is setting out this corpus on his own hook. It does not take much imagination to see that he has stolen a march on someone by being first in the field in things "sinicorum".

Dear Mr. Field:

You may not know that you are Chairman of the Committee on the Award of the Huntington Medal. Mrs. Brett and I are the other two members.

Last year no award was made. This year we should make one. Mr. Newell, Mrs. Brett and I would like to have it bestowed on Mr. Albert R. Frey. His chief numismatic works have been:

The Dated European Coinage, prior to 1501
The Dictionary of Numismatic Names
The Coinage of the First German, African and Asiatic Companies, besides several other articles which have appeared in numismatic publications from the year 1902 to date.

There have been six awards of this Medal - the first three to Americans; the second three to foreigners.

Edward T. Newell
Mrs. Agnes Baldwin Brett

Jean N. Svoronos

Dear Mr. Field:

Mr. Newell, I think, brought up at the Council meeting, the fact that several of our medals were coming up in the recent sale of B. Max Mehl, including, among others, the medal struck by the Society to commemorate the States entry into the Great War, which, I understand you would be interested in getting.

I am sending to the Council meeting on Friday, tomorrow, all the medals which we are getting in Mehl's sale, as I think that Council should have first choice of any we have for sale.

Dear Mr. Wood:

It is too bad that I am still carried on the Committee for the award of the Huntington Medal!

Anything that you and Mrs. Brett decide naturally has my O.K. Living as I do 150 miles from New York makes it rather difficult for me to fill these positions.

From the information you give me, my first choice for the award would be George Macdonald.

With very kind regards, believe me

Dear Mr. Field:

As per usual, about this time of year the Huntington Medal Award Committee functions. Mrs. Brett and myself and the other members of the Committee met the other day informally. There seems to be a sentiment about to give the medal this year to Mr. Robert James Kidlitz, on account of his book 'Medals and Medallions Relating to Architects' which came out at the beginning of this year.

It is a most excellent and scholarly production, taking years of collecting material and years of research to compile. The printing is a masterpiece. In case you have not seen the book, it is a folio of 190 pages, describing 1145 medals, with 124 photo-gelatine plates. We are fortunate in being able to make a comparison, as about the same time the Marquis of Milford-Haven issued a book of about the same size on Naval Medals. Mr. Kidlitz's book is superior in every respect.

Dear Mr. Wood:

I am enclosing the check that should have gone long ago, but owing to the fact that I had a few rather personal things on my mind I am sure you will appreciate the cause of my lapse.

I have great sympathy for anybody who has been through the removal of the gall bladder. However, you, a little skinny fellow, probably did not have the excavating to do that they discovered on me, who is so darn thick that the comment of one of the doctors present was that all he saw were the soles of the feet of the operating surgeon. Well, they say I am picking up but it is a long and weary job. At the end of ten years are you well? - because at the end of six weeks I am not.

Dear Mr. Field:

Many thanks for the check.

As you have asked me about the result of my operation I will give you the low-down on it. I probably could not have gotten along without it. Since then I have been doing fairly well getting along with two missing parts - possibly not as well as a Ford card would have done. The operation was a success, and I have been troubled now and then with gastritis. I have to eat a little more carefully than I used to. Now and then I fall by the wayside and sometimes reap the consequences. A year ago I had another operation to clear up some adhesions.
